Once upon a time there lived three little camels.

The three little camels each wanted to build a tent in the desert.

But in the desert lived a big, bad wolf. He wanted to eat the camels.

The first little camel built a tent made of straw.

The second little camel built a tent made of sticks.

The third little camel built a tent made of bricks.

The big, bad wolf was hungry.
He came to the tent of the first little camel.

"Little camel, little camel let me come in or I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your tent in!" said the wolf.

"No, no, no!" said the first little camel, "Not by the hump of my backy, back, back! I will not let you in!"

So the wolf huffed and he puffed and he blew the tent in. So the little camel ran to his mama's tent!

Then the big, bad wolf went to the second little camel's tent. He said, "Little camel, little camel let me come in or I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your tent in!"

"No, no, no!" said the second little camel, "Not by the hump of my backy, back, back! I will not let you in!"

So the wolf huffed and he puffed and he blew the tent in. So the little camel ran to his mama's tent!

Then the big, bad wolf went to the third little camel's tent. He said, "Little camel, little camel let me come in or I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your tent in!"

"No, no, no!" said the third little camel, "Not by the hump of my backy, back, back! I will not let you in!"

So the wolf huffed and he puffed ... and he huffed and he puffed ... And he huffed and he puffed ... But he could not blow the tent in!

The wolf fell down. He was so tired!

Then mama camel came with her rolling pin and chased the big bad wolf away and he never came back!
